Uintah Basin Technical College's Student Affairs team is here to serve you. The topics on this page explain student's rights, present disclosures, and provide general information. For more information, please visit the UBTech Student Affairs office.

STUDENT RIGHT TO KNOW

The Student Right to Know Act requires an institution that participates in any student financial assistance program under Title IV of Higher Education Act of 1965 (as amended) to disclose information about graduation rates to current and prospective students. The Higher Education Act of 1992 required that these same institutions report this data to the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) through the completion of the IPEDS graduation rate survey. Information about UBTech (including student body diversity, completion, retention, graduation, and financial aid performance rates) can be easily accessed through College Navigator, which is a service provided by the National Center for Education Statistics.

The Uintah Basin Technical College does not participate in any NCAA athletic programs and offers no athletically-related financial aid.

Addition information can be located on individual program pages or in the Career Center.

FERPA gives parents certain rights concerning their children's education records. These rights transfer to the student when he/she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level.

FERPA sets limits on the disclosure of personally identifiable information from school records and defines the rights of the student to review the records and request a change to the records. For additional information concerning student privacy, records

Health and safety at the Uintah Basin Technical College is undertaken in accordance with relevant institutional, industrial, governmental agency regulations and policies and procedures contained in the Campus Health and Safety Plan. This policy is intended to promote a safe, secure healthful learning and work environment.

As a safety measure, the college has posted a red emergency procedures guide near the exit to classrooms and meeting rooms. The guide provides students, faculty, and staff with helpful emergency information and phone numbers.

The college is committed to assist in providing students a safe environment for learning and in keeping students, parents, and employees well informed about campus security.

VACCINATIONS

It is the policy of the Uintah Basin Technical College that students entering into the health professional programs will undergo the necessary vaccinations required of that program. Please see a Student Success Officer for individual program requirements.

VOTER REGISTRATION

The Uintah Basin Technical College makes a good faith effort in distributing Voter Registration forms. Forms are available in Student Affairs. You can also register to vote online by visiting <https://secure.utah.gov/voterreg/index.html>.

Why Should I Register?

A vote is your voice. For your voice to be heard, you must register to vote. It is your right and your responsibility. Our elected officials determine much concerning our quality of life: taxes, economic regulation, and the education system. Don't let someone else choose your elected officials for you. The biggest election issues often directly affect the youth and will impact lives for years to come. The only way democracy works is if citizens, young and old, are active participants.

What are the requirements?

- You must be at least 18 years old on or before the next election.
- You must be a citizen of the United States.
- You must be a resident of Utah* for at least 30 days before the election.

*An applicant is considered a resident of Utah if they have their principal place of residence within Utah and intend to continue to reside within Utah indefinitely.

CRIME REPORT

In an annual report, UBTech provides information regarding the frequency of crimes committed on its campuses along with policies and procedures designed to combat crime and strengthen security for the three most recent calendar years. The report includes current policies and procedures for students and employees to report a crime; a list of those to whom a crime is reported; the college's relationship with local police agencies; a statement of the drug and alcohol policies; the type and frequency of programs designed to provide information on campus security procedures and policies; information on crime prevention and sexual assault programs; and support and procedures regarding sexual assaults.

This report complies with the requirements of the "Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act." This information is published yearly by October 15. Paper reports are available upon request from the UBTech Student Affairs office.

Everyone has a responsibility for campus safety and security by; reporting, complying, and participating.

The Campus Security Act of 1990 requires a school to compile and distribute an annual campus security report detailing the number and types of crimes committed on each Title IV eligible campus. You can review campus crime statistics for Uintah Basin Technical College online at <https://ope.ed.gov/security> and in the college's Annual Security Report

SEXUAL VIOLENCE AWARENESS AND PREVENTION

Students, staff, and faculty at Uintah Basin Technical College have the right to live, learn, and work in an environment that is free from all forms of sexual misconduct (including sexual assault), domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

Training and information is provided for employees and students of the Uintah Basin Technical College to promote awareness and prevention of sexual violence. The purpose is to educate those people attending or working at the college regarding sexual assault, rape, acquaintance rape, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. The college has established and enforces policies and procedures regarding these issues. Resources are available for anyone who is a victim, witness, or perpetrator of sexual violence.

UBTech encourages the reporting of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Reporting is the only way the college can provide remedial assistance, institute protection procedures for the reporter and others, and take whatever actions are necessary to respond to the report. Offenses such as sexual intercourse without consent, sexual assault, domestic and dating violence, and stalking are considered criminal violations of the law. UBTech encourages the reporting of these offenses to the police as soon as possible. In cases where there is a violation of college policies, the perpetrator may be subject to disciplinary sanctions through either Student Affairs or Human Resources.

The college can implement interim measures to prevent serious and immediate harm to the complainant and others; prevent retaliation against the complainant, the alleged perpetrator, and/or witnesses; end discriminatory or harassing behavior and prevent its recurrence; and provide appropriate training on issues related to discrimination, sexual misconduct, domestic/dating violence, or stalking.

No matter where on campus a student, faculty, or staff member comes forward to report sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, the office or department receiving the report should consult with the Title IX Coordinator.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF FEDERAL COPYRIGHT LAWS

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Penalties of copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorney’s fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504 and 505.

Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, please see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov.

For additional information on copyright policies at the Uintah Basin Technical College, please refer to The Student Code of Conduct.

PEER TO PEER FILE SHARING

Peer-to-Peer (P2P) file-sharing is a technology that allows people to download files from one another over the Internet.

Normal downloads have a two-participant relationship; a server that hosts the file and a client that downloads the file. Using P2P applications, networked computers share files without the need for a client-server relationship. Each computer acts simultaneously as a client and server. P2P users store files on their computers and the P2P application enables other users to download those files onto their computers.

It is illegal to reproduce and distribute copyrighted music, movies, television shows, books, articles, pictures, software, and other copyrighted materials specifically through the use of peer-to-peer (P2P) networks. For more information, describing the practice, infringement, and penalties of violating U.S. Copyright Laws through the use of peer-to-peer file sharing, visit www.copyright.gov.
